land is quoted as saying the following:

The Statement "It is perfectly absurd to suppose that I have any desire to re-enter public life. I have never spoken to anyone on the subject of a fourth candidacy and have no higher aspirations than the passing of my life with my family about me. This talk of a third term for me is absurd."

Calls It a Denial The World calls the statement a denial of any acceptance of the nomination, even if offered to him. It is a prominent feature of their today's paper.

RADICAL CHANGE IN ENGLISH ARMY

Lord Roberts Will Raise Efficiency of the Artillery Branch of Service.

London, June 19.—Little by little London is applying the lessons taught her by the Boer war. Changes are made in a quiet way so as to arouse no suspicion that things have not been exactly as they ought to be. Having realized the overwhelming importance of artillery in modern warfare, the war department has decided to make radical changes in this arm, which is much behind the times in equipment as well as in efficiency.

The present training of gunners has long been known to be entirely inadequate and many changes will be carried out to make the school of gunnery more efficient and up to date. There is to be an increase in the number of paid specialists attached to the batteries, and gun layers, range finders, telephonists and observers will be most thoroughly trained.

Lord Roberts has ordered the reconstruction of all fortress armaments, and states that he hopes the condition of the coast defenses will be greatly improved.

Of thirty ten inch lyddite shells which were filled last night in the building where the explosion occurred seven are missing.

WISCONSIN STALWARTS DESIROUS OF HARMONY

Make Overtures to La Follette Faction in Order to Secure a United Party.

Madison, Wis., June 19.—There was a general shake-up in the political situation of Wisconsin in a conference between Senator Spooner and Congressman Babcock, together with a large number of other leaders of the stalwart faction of the Republican party. The aim of the conference was to determine whether or not to continue the fight against the governor and the determination was to make overtures to the administration camp toward harmony, the means being the selection of a get-together candidate.

For this purpose Adjutant General C. R. Boardman of Oshkosh, an appointee of the governor, head of the national guard organization of the state and perhaps to the stalwarts the least offensive member of the governor's staff, was selected as the harmony candidate for governor. The announcement was not openly made, but the proposition to unite the factions will be conveyed by trusted messengers to the administration leaders. It is said Boardman would not be accepted by the administration, although he is not disliked, but the administration wants to name its own candidate and will go through a fight for that end, if, in fact, La Follette himself is not a candidate for a third term as governor.

MICHIGAN CLUBWOMAN DIES OF ASPHYXIATION

's Found Dead in Bathtub by Her Daughter—Gas Jet Is Turned On Full.

St. Joseph, Mich., June 19.—Mrs. Isabella F. Shepard, a prominent clubwoman, was found dead in a bathtub with the gas jet turned full on at her home, 1304 Forrest avenue, the aristocratic street of the city. She was unable to find it downstairs and pursued her search to the second floor of the house and subsequently to the bathroom, where she found her mother reclining in the bathtub clad in her nightdress. The gas jet had been turned on full and death had been due to asphyxiation. Two years ago Arthur B. Shepard, husband of the deceased, was found dead in the bathtub under similar circumstances. Financial reverses are assigned as the cause of the deed.

Russians at Novgorod Sjewersk Planned to Exterminate the Jews

But Were Foiled.

Berlin, June 19.—The Tageblatt's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs that a report gained circulation at Novgorod Sjewersk that the government had ordered the extermination of the Jews. The people began to make preparations openly, and appointed May 27, coronation day for the massacres.

Terror seized the Jewish population, which assembled in the synagogue on the day appointed. There were 5,000 persons in the building, but the police prevented the gathering of mobs. The marshal of the aristocracy, Prince Galitzin, and several priests of the Russian church attended the coronation celebration in the synagogue so as to reassure the Jews. Their presence exercised a restraint on the populace.

BRITISH ARMY HAS A SCANDAL

Officers of Dublin's Pet Regiment Made to Suffer When Facts Became Known.

Dublin, June 19.—The city is slowly recovering from the shock of the recent sentence of the court-martial as a result of "ragging" (hazing) in the Twenty-first Lancers.

No less than nine of the officers of this, the pet regiment of Dublin, have been convicted. The commanding officer has been convicted of an error of judgment. One major has been called upon to resign and another has been censured and subjected to loss of leave or stoppage or promotion.

The case which has thus ended in this wholesale condemnation of officers first came to the knowledge of the war office authorities when the victim of the "ragging," Lieutenant Willows, sent in his papers to the commanding officer.

Lieutenant Willows is a young colonial who distinguished himself in the South African war and was given a commission in the Twenty-first Lancers in recognition of his services. Being of a quiet, unassuming demeanor, he took no active part in the amusements of the other officers, and consequently became a marked man.

Sentiment in Colombia Apparently Is Veering Towards Canal Proposition.

Panama, June 19.—A message from Colon says late advices from Baranquilla and Cartagena show a markedly favorable turn on the canal treaty ratification owing to the isthmian public spirit rising lately and the continued publications here by prominent, representative men of both conservative and liberal parties elucidating the important points in the controversy. Bogota advices of June 1 state that public opinion there is also more favorable since President Marroquin's answer to ex-Minister Fernandez refusing to accept the latter's suggestion to assume dictatorial measures, which has caused a good impression in all circles here.

ABDUL HAMID RUMORED TO HAVE ABDUCATED

Sultan of Turkey Is Reported In Belgrade to Have Given Up the Throne Under Press of Revolutionists.

REPORT IS UNCONFIRMED IN LONDON

Stories of Internal Trouble Have Been Received from Time to Time and Story Is Given Credence.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)

London, June 19.—The report circulated in Belgrade that the Sultan Abdul Hamid, II, Sultan of Turkey had abdicated can not be confirmed in diplomatic circles here. Stray reports regarding an uprising have filtered through various foreign diplomatic circles for some time past but nothing definite is known as to the truth or falsity of the reports. Close censorship of all reports have precluded the possibility of the exact truth being known for some time yet.

Unsatisfactory Conditions.

In official circles it is generally conceded that the affairs of Turkey are not pleasant and that the Sultan has been long living in dread of the assassin. What is known is only by hearsay as no word of the real truth of Turkish affairs is allowed to be sent out. The Sultan some time ago surrounded himself with Albanian soldiers as a special body guard and shut himself up in his palace. Recent reports have it that the body guard recently revolted and were only subdued by other troops hurried to the scene.

Is Not Young

Sultan Abdul Hamid II was born in 1812 and was raised to the throne in August of 1876. He immediately removed his palace buildings from European Turkey across the Bosphorus where he erected a palace that is a fortress and where some fifty thousand soldiers are quartered all the time for his protection. He is in deadly fear of being assassinated and at night sleeps in a room below the palace guarded by trustworthy slaves.

LIVERY BARN WAS ALL BURNED UP

Horses Were Saved But Many Amusing Incidents Occurred to the Owners.

Last evening Graham's livery barn at Brodhead was totally destroyed by fire. There is some insurance. There were fifty horses in the barn when the fire broke out but they were all taken out unharmed from the burning structure, but as a result of their hasty exit, some neighboring farmers were put to considerable inconvenience, although what happened was amusing to others. It seems that there was a soldiers' reunion that night in the town and a large number of people from the surrounding country had come to the village to take part. Many of these took their horses to Graham's barn, so at the time of the fire there was quite a number of nags in the stable, whose owners were having a good time celebrating in town. When the fire was seen, the first thought of the liverymen was to save the animals so the men rushed through the barn with knives and hatchets and cut the halter ropes, driving the horses into the road. Once in the open air, the equines did not linger long to watch the fire but rammed off in the direction of their various farms and before anyone thought about it, the biggest part of them had disappeared. When the entertainment in town was over the farmers started for their horses intending to hitch up, but it is reported that a large number of the fellows who brought their best girls not only were obliged to take them home, but had to pull their buggies, too.

JANESVILLE HAS MODEL FACTORY

SHOES MADE HERE GO ALL OVER
THE COUNTRY.

HOW IT IS DONE

Wonderful Machines that Turn
Out an Endless Number

Each Day.

Shoes manufactured in Janesville by the Marzluft Shoe factory are worn by members of the fair sex in every state from "way up in Maine" to sunny California, and they are as good as can be made, too, being models in style, beauty and workmanship. The machines that turn the raw material into the pretty footgear, are accurate and wonderful in their work and some of them almost seem to possess a reasoning power of their own, aside from the skillful hand that directs their workings. A shoe factory is unlike some manufacturing processes, where the change from the raw material to the finished product is not easily seen or understood by the uninitiated—like the story of the sausage factory, where the dog is thrown in at one end of the machine and comes out at the other transformed into a bunch of sausages—the process of shoe making can be seen in all its parts. A finished pair of machine made shoes has been turned out in seventeen minutes, but although machine-made shoes are as good as the old-fashioned article, it takes between twelve and twenty-four hours to have the work well done. The shoe should be kept on the last that length of time, to insure durable qualities.

Parts of a Shoe
The sole of an ordinary shoe is made of three pieces of leather, the upper part is five separate sections and the cloth lining is in four more parts. All these pieces of what will be the finished shoe, are cut out of the leather and cloth by means of simple patterns made out of cardboard. These patterns are cut from the shape of the wooden lasts. Shoe lasts are too well known to need a description. There are fifteen different styles used this year at the factory.

This company makes only ladies' shoes and by specializing in this way a better product can be turned out and at a better profit. The leather is bought ready to be made into shoes and much of it comes from eastern tanneries. After it has been cut according to the patterns, the different parts begin their swift journey through the plant.

Many Machines
Altogether there are about forty-eight different machines and processes through which each pair of shoes must go. The stock is first stamped, the edges of the leather cemented and folded, then the quarters are sewn together. The cloth linings are now sewn and then the two are combined, and the leather and lining are stitched along the proper lines. All this is done by special machinery. The partly finished shoe tops are then taken to the eye-letting and button-fastening machine. The toe of the shoe is then rounded, the tongue is put in and the shoe is "barred," or the strip across the front of the toe is placed in position. In a general way these are the first steps in the making of footwear.

Turn and Welt Shoes
At this point there are two main divisions in general shoe-making, that of making "turn" shoes, embracing all work in which there is only one flexible sole, which is sewed to the upper part of the shoe while outside in and turned over when completed. Slippers and ladies' thin house boots are examples of this class of work. In the other division the upper is united to an insole and at least one outer sole with a raised heel. This class comprises all other kinds, shapes and qualities of footwear. They are called "welt" shoes, and are made about as follows: First the sole is nailed to the wooden last, then the upper part of the shoe is fitted on and sewed to the sole by machine work. The only nails are placed in the rear of the shoe, where the heel is later secured. In "box toed" shoes the leather is treated with a plasterlike substance that causes it, in the front of the shoe to become hard and firm, thus retaining its shape for a long time. After the top of the shoe is sewed to the first sole, a coating of cork and cement is spread over the surface, and when this is dry, the second sole is fitted on and sewed. The machine that does this work is perhaps, the most wonderful and intricate of all. The next process is to put the heel in place.

Kangaroo Walk
The "high heel" is still worn by many women, although it is said to give the wearer the "kangaroo walk," and this has been condemned by the Chicago papers. It is claimed by some doctors that the extreme high heel causes muscular rheumatism. Large numbers of these shoes with heels nearly two inches high are manufactured to meet the demand in spite of the supposed ill effects.

At this stage the shoe is nearly finished, but it must be trimmed, the soles sandpapered and stained, the entire shoe must receive the final polish. Then the last lining on the sole, inside, must be fastened in and the upper part of the shoe ironed and it is ready to be packed.

BOYCOTT IS ON BY TELEGRAPHERS

Declare Santa Fe Route Treats Members of the Union in an Unfair
Manner

The order of Railroad Telegraphers has declared a boycott against the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, a circular letter signed by the president and grand secretary of the order having been received by the ticket agents of all the roads centering in Chicago. The letter asks the ticket agents, when routing passengers and freight, to discriminate against the Santa Fe.

The trouble between the telegraphers and the Santa Fe is of long standing. In 1890 the telegraphers and station agents became dissatisfied with their pay and working conditions, and sent a committee to Chicago to make demands, and, after many conferences a strike was called. The officers of the order say that the company, by a subterfuge, induced the men to resume work at the end of seventeen days, and they also say that those who took part in the strike have been discriminated against ever since by the Santa Fe and some other roads. The Santa Fe has not been employing members of the order for some time.

BADGER BUILDING PLANS IN HAND

Wisconsin Commission Is Much
Pleased With the St. Louis Fair
Site.

The Wisconsin St. Louis exposition commissioners who have just returned from the site of the great fair, report everything progressing very nicely. They have several plans and new ideas to submit to the regular meeting of the board and as soon as these are settled the work of the building will be commenced at once. In their opinion the site which has been allotted to Wisconsin for the erection of a state building at the St. Louis exposition is highly satisfactory, and is believed, with two exceptions, to be the best in the space set aside for state buildings. The tract which is to be used for this purpose is at the southeast corner of the grounds and is an elevated piece of land, thickly wooded. At the base of the hill on which the state buildings will be placed stands the United States government building, and immediately behind this, on the slope of the hill, is the Missouri building, the largest and finest of the state buildings, which will cost $125,000. Just west of this is the Louisiana building, which will be one of the most interesting of the group of state structures, and immediately south of this and directly opposite the Minnesota space is the lot where Wisconsin's building will be placed. The site is ideal, being on the brow of the hill and very near the principal buildings, while the rest of the state buildings, except this group, are two or three blocks away.

VARSITY CREW IS DOING WELL

Rapid Progress Is Being Made By the Senior Crew at Poughkeepsie.

In a letter to a friend in this city a member of the varsity crew sends most encouraging word of the work done at Poughkeepsie. He now firmly believes that the Wisconsin oarsmen stand a good show of winning the big race if no mishaps occur and the men continue to do as well as they have in the past few days. They are fast becoming used to the new shell and no what Coach O'Brien has secured a launch from which to coach the boys they think they continue to improve as rapidly as in the past. His opinions of the opposing crews based upon what he has seen of them leads him to think that the Badgers are at present in far better shape than the others. One feature he dilates upon is the health of the men and the manner in which they have taken up the work. Several changes have been made in the Freshman boat that seem beneficial. One funny feature of the coaching is that most of the time O'Brien is far in the rear of the oarsmen his launch being an old tug for which the university must pay $5 an hour.

Boynton-Smith
A pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome T. Boynton of Emerald Grove, when Antoinette, their daughter, was united in marriage to Dr. Charles Edgar Smith of Pueblo, Colorado. In the midst of beautiful floral decorations, and in the presence of all the members of the immediate family and a large number of relatives and friends, Rev. Robert C. Denison of Janesville performed the ceremony. After congratulations had been extended to the newly wedded couple, and best wishes for a long life of happiness, a dainty luncheon was served.

The bride is a most estimable young lady, a particular favorite among her associates, possessing so many of those rare qualities which have endeared her not only to her immediate family but also to a very large circle of intimate friends, who will follow her with only the best of wishes. As she goes to her new home she will be especially missed by those who have been so fortunate as to know her and associate with her in the past.

Dr. Smith is the resident surgeon of Minnequa hospital, located at Pueblo, Colorado, and maintained by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, a large mining and steel-manufacturing corporation, operating in several states, and having their central offices, plant and hospital in Pueblo.

He received his education at Beloit college, later graduating from Chicago Medical college and during this time was an assistant-surgeon for the Chicago & North-Western R. R. in Chicago, and also in Passavant hospital in the same city. Dr. Smith has already achieved great success in his chosen profession of surgery, and his many friends in Rock county, his former home, and elsewhere will wish him future happiness and even greater success.

The newly wedded couple will be at home in Pueblo after July first to welcome any of their many friends.

MAY REPORT IS VERY FAVORABLE

SECRETARY TRUE DOES NOT FEAR
FROST DAMAGE.

THE CROPS ARE SAFE

While There Will Be Some Loss
It Will Be Very Small.

While the damage by frost is considerable, "the crop prospects of the state are by no means discouraging," Secretary True, of the state board of agriculture says in his crop report for May, just issued. "The heavy frost has seriously injured early planted fields of corn and potatoes, and those crop now have a very unpromising appearance, and scarcely any of the fields affected have been destroyed, and 95 per cent, of the crop, with warm, favorable weather, may yet recover completely from the effects of the freeze. In many sections of the state, large areas of high lands have completely escaped, and upon almost every farm parts of fields have practically been injured. Fear has been expressed that winter wheat and winter rye in blossom have been damaged, and this can only be determined by time.

"Aside from the effects of frost, our crops remain in excellent condition, and no apparent reason for anxiety exists. The ground is usually well supplied with moisture, heat and sunshine being wanting.

Corn Acreage
"From the reports of our correspondents we find that the acreage of corn has fallen off 5 per cent, from last year, while the acreage of potatoes has increased 2 per cent. The acreage of tobacco is also considerably increased, all tobacco growing counties except Rock reporting a gain, and this county no loss. Only about one-half of the tobacco was set at the time of frost, and the loss from this source was much diminished by this, as beds of plants were usually protected.

"A considerable increase of acreage of peas is reported, especially in districts where canning is a leading industry.

Sugar Beets
"Sugar beets are receiving more attention, in parts of the state within convenient reach of the sugar factory at Menomonie Falls.

"All small grains are doing well, the weather being well adapted to a strong, healthy growth.

"Compared with a good average condition, these crops are reported in the following percentages: winter wheat, 92, spring wheat, 98, rye, 102, barley, 100, oats, 102, corn, 80.

Hay Crop
"The hay crop is to be an exceptional one, the conditions of mowings being reported at 112, while pastures reach the high percentage of 115. Live stock is thriving finely upon the excellent pasturage, and creameries and cheese factories are busy and prosperous.

"Fruit prospects have rather improved, and the outlook for later small fruits and apples is fair."

Fort Sheridan to Zion City
The excursion to Fort Sheridan and Zion City on Tuesday, June 23, under the management of the North-Western railroad will give the excursionists a chance to visit two interesting places.

At Fort Sheridan the excursionists will be shown through the barracks, the hospital, the mess halls and various other buildings connected with this, the largest military post in the country.

Zion City, less than two years old, today has a population of 8,000 persons and covers several square miles. Its lace factories, covering more than eight acres of floor space, are now completed and all improvements of every kind are going rapidly forward.

The excursion train will leave Janesville at 7:20 Tuesday morning and arrive at Fort Sheridan at 10:20 and at Zion City at 12:50. The fare for the round trip has been fixed at $1.50. For further particulars apply to North-Western ticket agents.

A. A. JACKSON IS CHOSEN BY COURT

Is Appointed a Member of the State
Bar Examiners for Five Years.

At a meeting of the supreme court yesterday Mr. A. A. Jackson of this city was one of the members of the state board of law examiners appointed under the provisions for such a board made by the last legislature. Mr. Jackson's four fellow members of the board are J. L. Rusk, of Chippewa Falls, S. N. Dickinson, of Superior, Mr. Nash of Manitowoc, and T. W. Spence of Milwaukee. Mr. Rusk's term is for one year, Mr. Dickinson's for two years, Mr. Nash for three years, Mr. Jackson for four years and Mr. Spence for five years. This board takes office the second Tuesday in August. The law under which it was constituted was enacted last March and is known as chapter 19, section 6 of the session laws of 1903. It repeals the law of 1898 which made the board appointive each year and now fixes the terms at five years. All the gentlemen appointed were former members of the examining board under the old law.

LAW DECISIONS FOR LAYMEN

Recent Court Rulings That Will Interest the Busy Reader Very Much.

Carrying Concealed Weapons
A West Virginia statute makes it a misdemeanor for any one to carry about his person a revolver, knife, or other dangerous or deadly weapon, but provides that nothing in the statute shall be construed as to prevent any person from carrying such weapon about his dwelling house or premises, or from carrying the same from the place of purchase to his dwelling house, or from his house to any place where repairing is done, to have it repaired, and back. The defendant, at the request of the owner, took a revolver of the latter to be repaired, and it was held that he was technically guilty of a violation of the statute, although such revolver was broken at the time, and would not explode a cartridge. The court, in a rather half-splitting opinion, justifies a fine of $25 by saying that the law does not allow a man to carry pistols of other people to a shop to be repaired. 44 Southeastern Rep. (W. Va., Judge Dent) 231. Voluntary Associations—Majority Rule.

A voluntary association, having adopted a constitution, or rules and by-laws, the same are to be considered in the light of a contract, and the majority rule, in the government of the association does not obtain unless it is provided in such contract. To divert the funds of such association to other purposes than those set forth in the constitution, by-laws, rules and regulations adopted by the association requires the consent of each and every member of the association. 44 Southeastern Rep. (W. Va., Judge McWhorter) 204.

Telegraphs—Failures to Deliver.
A contract upon a blank telegraphic message providing the company shall not be liable for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery, of any unrecalled message beyond the amount retained for sending the same, is not valid and effective to excuse the telegraph company for total omission to send or deliver a message. A telegram importing on its face a proposal to sell lumber is sufficient of itself to notice the telegraph company with notice of its importance, so as to call for its prompt transmission and delivery. 44 Southeastern Rep. (W. Va.,) 309.

Larceny—Possession of Stolen Property.
The finder of lost property is not guilty of larceny thereof, unless he appropriates the same to his own use with knowledge or means of inquiry as to its true owner, and failing to make every reasonable effort to find the owner and restore the property. The presumption arising from possession of recently stolen property is one of fact, for a jury to pass upon, and guilt may or may not be inferred from such possession. 44 Northwestern Rep. (Minnesota Judge Lewis) 573.

Inkeepers—Liability to Guests—Fire
All of property at a public hotel or inn by fire are prima facie due to the negligence of the proprietor, but he may discharge and relieve himself of liability by showing that the losses happened by an irresistible force of unavoidable accident, such as a fire originating upon premises over which he had no control without fault or negligence on his part. 44 Northwestern Rep. (Minnesota Judge Collins) 574.

News From the County

MILTON

Milton, June 19.—Monday afternoon the Milton town team defeated the Forest City nine of Rockford, Ill., by a score of 6 to 1. In a fast and interesting game. Peterson who started in to twirl for Rockford, was hit so hard by the Milton boys that he was taken out of the box at the end of the second inning. Conrad, who replaced him pitched a splendid game, allowing neither hits nor runs from the second inning until the close of the game. Had he been used at the beginning—the score would have been decidedly close. Alkin and Hinkley both did well, the former getting four strike outs and the latter five and giving Rockford but two hits. The Milton infield played together like clock work and will probably remain made up of the same men who filled the positions there Monday. The features of the game was left fielder Linert's fast running catch of a swift line hit in the eighth. Milton stole eight bases, Rockford none. Fulton umpired. Time of game one hour thirty five minutes.

AROUSED GREAT BRITAIN.

Joseph Chamberlain, Whose Tariff Plan Made a Sensation.

Joseph Chamberlain, colonial secretary in the British cabinet, who has just stirred the "empire on which the sun never sets" to its profoundest depths, as well as attracted the attention of the civilized world by the declaration of his new tariff policy, has again proved himself the most courageous of the English politicians. Mr. Chamberlain's adoption of Imperial protection and reciprocity for the colonies as his platform, after Britain's half century of free trade, is the most sudden and sensational revolution that has been experienced in English politics for many years.

A remarkable man is Joe Chamberlain. He above all others was responsible for the South African war, and during the early days of that conflict, when England was being beaten in every battle, Chamberlain was the best hated man in England. But a change has come, and he is now probably the most popular man, the war having ended in the wiping out of the Dutch republics and their annexation to the British crown.

Several of the most famous English statesmen changed their politics before ending their careers, notably Gladstone, who in his youth was a most uncompromising Tory and finished his career as an advanced Liberal.

It is therefore not very extraordinary that Mr. Chamberlain, who began his career as a radical opponent of the aristocracy, should now have made a hard and fast alliance with those who "toil not, neither do they spin," with whose assistance he aspires to rule the empire.

CLIMBS LOFTY PEAKS.

Miss Peck, Who Is to Attempt the Ascent of Mount Sorata.

Miss Annie S. Peck, the Alpine climber who is to lead the scientific expedition which will attempt the ascent of Mount Sorata, in Bolivia, this summer, has a mountain climbing record that is equaled by few men. Miss Peck has scaled the Jungfrau and the Matterhorn in Switzerland, Funfingerspitze in the Tyrol, Popocatepetl and Orizaba in Mexico, and many other lofty peaks.

Sir Martin Conway, the British explorer, attempted the ascent of Mount Sorata about a year ago, and after heroic effort attained a height of 20,000 feet. Sorata's summit is variously estimated to be from 21,500 to 24,000 feet above sea level.

Miss Peck will have three companions on her trip—Dr. W. G. T. of the University of New Mexico and two Swiss guides, one of whom is Maguinez, who was with Sir Martin Conway. When Miss Peck climbed Mount Orizaba, which is 18,000 feet high, she broke all records. No woman before had ever reached that height.

Miss Peck is a native of Providence and did her first lofty climbing in the White mountains. On her present trip one of the great difficulties to be overcome is the rarefied atmosphere, which at an altitude of 20,000 feet contains only about half the quantity of oxygen in the air as at the level of the sea.

When Miss Peck was nearing the summit of Mount Orizaba she could take only about sixty steps without stopping for breath. Before the summit was finally reached it was necessary to rest every twenty or thirty feet. For the ascent of Sorata tanks of oxygen will be taken along to be used when lofty heights are reached.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It In Janesville.

The following case is but one of many similar occurring daily in Janesville. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

Mr. Samuel Griffin of 203 Locust St. journeyman carpenter says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe and as a result weakness of the kidneys set in. The secretions from those organs were greatly disordered, annoyed me much at night and I seemed to have limited control of them. After finishing the treatment my kidneys could sleep all night without being disturbed. I am better now than I have been for years and give all credit to Doan's Kidney Pills for bringing about the result."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Here is an opportunity to buy them much under the regular prices. Pre-inventory sales held by the various Chicago wholesale houses within the past week was the means of securing a choice collection of desirable styles in their wash goods, such as fine lace stripe organdies, dimities, batiste, etc., in such colorings as pink, blue, lavender, also white grounds with black and colored figures, and black ground with white and colored figures. About fifty pieces in the lot, regular values of which would be up to 35¢ per yard. All on sale 18¢ at a choice per yard. Other special value lines of wash goods at 5 cents, 10 cents and 12¢ cents, all of which represent higher cost lines.

Skirts and Suits

This end of the store is a busy place every day, and the present is a very good time to buy a suit as prices are down to a low basis. Skirts of Brilliantines, Etamines, Crashes, &c., are selling well and you will find all the new ideas here.

June Millinery

Miss O'Neil in her visit to the Chicago market last week secured some choice styles suitable for the summer season, including pattern hats as well as a big line of outing hats, and the present display of late novelties is worth a visit to see. Take a short cut and walk through.

THE BEST MEDIUM.

Charles Rucker, representing the Swift Specific company, and the Bradford Regulator company, recently made a tour of the Pacific states. Mr. Rucker's companies spend $750,000 a year in newspaper advertising. Newspaperdom reports an interview with Mr. Rucker while in San Francisco, which will be read with interest, as it contains so much good sense. He said:

The large and successful American advertisers work along the most exact lines. The placing and the maintenance of newspaper advertisements on a large scale has developed into a science. People who have studied advertising for many years have found that the more carefully the work of advertising is done, just so proportionately will the results be more satisfactory.

"Advertisers have tried every method imaginable of drawing attention to goods for sale, and the result has been that today the newspaper stands by a wide interval, ahead of everything else as the greatest medium. The newspaper goes into the homes as a welcome visitor, and the advertisements therein are perused by readers already prepossessed in their favor on account of the advertising article appearing in a creditable and trustworthy publication.

"Then again, the newspapers of Chicago and New York which enjoy the largest number of subscribers are evening publications. This goes to show that all other conditions being equal, the great body of newspaper readers in a district will more generously support an evening newspaper than they would one published in the morning.

"As in many other things the United States is ahead of all other countries in advertising. The English are behind us in attracting sales for goods by advertising. Very good reasons for this is found in the fact that the American workman is the better paid for his work; he has more money to spend; he is then naturally a more liberal purchaser, and as such makes it more profitable for the advertising his products in English publications. I know it to be a fact that an English manufacturer can sell more goods in America by advertising his wares in this country than if he were to spend the same amount of money in advertising to expend money in attracting his purchasers. For the purpose of attracting buyers among his countrymen.

"The most successful advertiser of the future will be one who applies the most care and scientific principles to his work. The medium must be the best, the results must be carefully weighed and the newspaper space of the advertisement must keep pace with the competitors to insure success, and to these requirements I believe the great advertiser of tomorrow will give most attention.

"Does advertising pay? I know that it does, and it does so most emphatically. The merchant who does not advertise is not up to date. He is behind the times. Why even in Atlanta, the home town and place of manufacture of Swift Specific, we carry as much advertising as we do in proportion to other cities, and still every man, woman and child in Atlanta knows of our preparations. "The merchant who will ride in the hand wagon of success must advertise."

NEW EXCHANGE RATIO.

Official announcements have been made that the government of Peru has successfully put in operation the law of 1901, which provided for the adoption of the gold standard on March 1st of the current year. The monetary unit of Peru is the sol, which is identical in weight and fineness with the British pound sterling, and it has a gold value of $1.87.

This action by Peru seems to be of great importance in view of the efforts which are now being made by the commission appointed by our government at the instance of Mexico and China, for the establishment, through international agreement of a uniform basis for exchange between gold and silver using countries. Some of the South American states, Siam and other Asiatic countries, have adopted as a basis for their reformed currencies their monetary units and made provision for the maintenance of the exchange parity between gold and silver, by reducing the value, in terms of gold, of their units by 50 per cent. This was the course taken by Japan, when that empire established a gold basis for its currency, the same course has been taken by the Philippine government, and a similar course is proposed by Mexico. The practical adoption of the same course by Peru seems to encourage the belief that eventually all of the South American states will recognize this as the most effective measure that can be taken for the establishment of the exchange parity. If other silver using countries in Asia should adopt this basis, the labors of the international commission would be greatly simplified, particularly if the European gold currency nations should agree to recognize this method of arriving at the desired basis. This agreement would most likely be made, as it would seem to be made, as it would seem to be the correct course to be taken for the solution of the problem.

When the joint proposition was first made by Mexico and China that through an international commission to secure an adjustment of the exchange parity it was felt that it would be an exceedingly difficult task and that it would most likely result either in failure or that a long time basis could be agreed upon. It now appears, however, that the basis originally adopted by the American commission, is likely to be almost universally chosen, thus enabling the new exchange parity to be established within a comparatively short time so the incalculable advantage of all the gold and silver using countries of the world.

FIRST MATCH IS, CLOSE VICTORY

JANESVILLE MARGIN AGAINST MADISON WAS SEVEN.

PLAYED AT THE CAPITAL CITY

Locals Entertained by Maple Bluff
Club In Initial Inter-City Match of Season.

It was a queer proposition that confronted the Mississippi team when all cards were in at the close of the match at Madison yesterday. They had done the trick and defeated the Madisonians, but only by a margin of seven, the holes up standing eighteen to eleven. The scores that did the work had been chalked up by members of the club who were not regarded as winners, while the old time sharps enjoyed an off day, so far as victory was concerned. They either finished down or to a tie score.

Seventeen men comprised the Janesville team. Madison had several additional men who were ready. Their complaint was, however, that several of their strong men were absent because of the university exercises of commencement week.

Al Schaller captained the team, being elected on the train. His defeat by F. Jacobs was the first victory that old time rival of his has scored upon him. The result was in the nature of a surprise.

Morris was the executive member of the opposing forces.

Play began early in the afternoon—shortly before one o'clock. By four o'clock the last pair had returned. The morning was spent in getting a line on the tricks of the links, which were in fine condition through the fair green. The putting greens were dotted with miniature hills and valleys, which made accurate shots decidedly difficult.

McGiffin Low Score
H. S. McGiffin captured the score laurels of the day. His mark of 33 for nine holes was within two strokes of bogey.

During the early part of the afternoon it seemed inevitable that the locals were to be neatly trimmed by the Capital City club, but as the later cards were recorded it was seen that the Maple Bluff players were getting theirs.

After breakfast upon arriving in Madison the players were taken in carryalls to the steamboat landing, and thence in the club boat "Patter" to the links. The ladies spent the morning in driving about the city, arriving at the clubhouse just in time for the beautiful dinner which the entertaining club had spread.

The Score
The summary is as follows:
Baker—Brown, tie.
McGiffin—Morris, tie.
L. Brownell—Sanborn, Jr., tie.
Gage—Tracey, 1 up.
Carter—Ford, 1 up.
Tallman—Moseley, 2 up.
Sutherland—Kropf, 5 down.
Hill—Schmedeman, 1 up.
Bliss—Curtis, 6 up.
King—Drake, 1 up.
G. Brownell—Hanks, 1 up.
Schaller—Jacobs, 4 down.
Hyde—Butler, 2 down.
Baumann—Sanborn, Sr., 4 up.
Hyde—Butler, 2 down.
Valentine—Guorney, 1 up.
The local team were accompanied by Mrs. H. S. McGiffin, Miss Wilma McGiffin, Mrs. Fred Howe, Misses May and Grace Valentine, Miss Belle MacLean, and Mrs. H. G. Carter.

ART STUDY CO. INCORPORATED

Indications Are that the Chicago Company Has Decided to Make Janesville Their Location.

Evidently the Art Study company of Chicago has reached a decision to locate in this city.

Articles of incorporation for the company, giving Janesville as the place of business, were filed with Secretary of State Houser at Madison yesterday. Today the same articles were filed with the register of deeds in this city.

Colin C. MacLean, A. E. Bingham, and Nona S. MacLean appear as the incorporators.

The capital stock is placed at fifty thousand dollars. The purpose of organization is given as the "establishment of an art gallery or art galleries, and the manufacturing, painting, and sale and exchange of art goods of all kinds, including pictures, picture frames, moldings, and hanging pictures and appliances, and statuary of all kinds."

THE EVENTS OF THE DAY
Linen Shower Given: On Wednesday afternoon a delightful party was given by Mrs. W. E. Wisner in honor of her niece, Miss Imogene MacDonald. The occasion was a linen shower. Miss MacDonald receiving many beautiful pieces, as remembrances of her friends. At 5:30 a delicious four course supper was served. The spacious parlors were elaborately decorated with flowers. Music and games helped to make the afternoon a very pleasant one.

Children Meet Today: The Wee Folks' band of the Congregational church is holding its semi-annual meeting this afternoon. The membership of the society consists entirely of the wee tots less than five years of age. The barrels in which they have saved money for the last six months are opened today, the proceeds to be used for children's hospitals in foreign mission lands.

To Hold Institutes: During the summer Supt. Bell and Miss Gertrude Zelinger will both be engaged for a part of the time in institute work. Miss Zelinger will be at Madison and in this city, and Mr. Buell will assist in conducting institutes at Monroe and at Plover, in Portage county.

SMALL BOYS MUST NOT MAKE NOISE

No Firing of Firecrackers Or Other Explosives Will Be Allowed Until the Fourth.

During the past days the police have had occasion to call down obstreperous youngsters who have been celebrating the Fourth of July too previously. In order to safeguard against runaways caused by horses taking fright from the unexpected sound of explosives, the police strictly enforce the rule of allowing no firecrackers to be used except on Independence day. At that time the drivers are on the lookout for such disturbances and are not taken unawares.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: With the Fond du Lac and Oshkosh interurban cars making the run between the two cities in fifty minutes, the popularity of the line should be largely increased. The reduction of the running time to this point is highly complimentary to the management and is substantial evidence that the road is one of the best built interurban lines in the United States.

ALUMNI TO MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

ASSOCIATION OF BLIND IN TRI-YEARLY MEETING.

FROM MONDAY TO THURSDAY

Subjects of Practical Nature of Interest to Blind Will Be Treated
By Graduates.

During the fore part of next week the blind school will be the gathering point for the graduates of that institution. The tri-yearly meeting of the alumni association will be held from Monday to Thursday, the program which has been arranged for that occasion extending from Monday evening to Wednesday afternoon. These reunions are usually largely attended, and this year is not expected to be exceptional in that respect.

Opens Monday Evening
On Monday evening a reception will be held, at which opportunity will be given to renew old acquaintances.

General discussion, following the exercises of welcome, will be the order for Tuesday morning. Rev. Geo. Shorb will conduct the devotional exercises, after which Supt. C. H. Showalter will welcome the alumni. M. A. McGalloway will make the response. The alumni song, composed by Rev. Shorb, will then be sung. Dr. A. O. Anderson will then speak on the theme, "Is It Necessary for the Blind to be Dependent?" Dr. John Schuster will discuss "Osteopathy," and Miss Kate Dillon "Handicraft for Girls."

Features of Program
Similar addresses will be continued in the afternoon, the subjects being "Trade Schools for the Blind," by ex-Supt. A. J. Hinton; "Higher Education for the Blind in the Public Schools," by Rev. Shorb; and "Pensioning the Blind of the State," by Adam Zepp.

Serious discussion will be thrown aside in the evening, and a delightful musical program will entertain the alumni. Piano, vocal, violin and flute solos and recitations will be given. Mrs. J. H. Jones, Miss Laura Engleson, Miss Anna Hull, W. F. Poutsch, Daniel Roberts, Mrs. Nora Zepp, Mrs. Carrie Cummings, Miss Carrie Palmer, C. D. Evans, Rev. W. U. Parks, Miss Jessie Foster, Mrs. Flora Evans, Edward Raabe, will appear in the musical numbers. Robert Barnes and Eugene Hitchcock will give readings.

Practical Subjects
Business connected with the meeting of the alumni association will be transacted Wednesday morning. Two papers will be delivered, the subjects being "What is Success and How is it Secured?" by Miss Elizabeth J. Curtis, and "Why Are the Blind Not More Successful in Teaching Music," by Olaf Olson.
"Domestic Usefulness," by Miss Anna Davis and "Farming" by Frank Harmon will be discussed Wednesday afternoon by the general alumni body as well as by the persons who present the papers. Other subjects such as retail business, journalism, etc., will be taken up in an open round table.

PRETTY SCENE AT CATHOLIC SOCIAL

Lawn Entertainment of Children of Mary at St. Patrick's Church Held Last Evening.

Dozens of lights strung across the parsonage lawn at St. Patrick's gave a festive appearance for the social of the Children of Mary of the church which occurred last evening. At small tables young ladies of society dispensed ice cream and cake. Smith's orchestra was given a position of vantage on the porch of the parsonage, whence came the sounds of sweet music. Financially the affair was a gratifying success for the society.

MIXED CHOIR WON WREATH

Male Choir Vanquished in Tuneless Strife at St. John's Picnic.
The feature of the delightful picnic which St. John's Sunday school enjoyed at Crystal Springs park yesterday was a contest between the two choirs of the church. One is of male voices and the other of mixed voices. The latter choir was declared victor by the judges and was given a wreath and banner as prize.

LINE CITY HAS NEW ASSOCIATION

WAS FORMED BY BUSINESS MEN
LAST NIGHT.

TO FIGHT THE BOYCOTT

Its Purpose Is to Help Workmen Who Want to Work.

(Special To The Gazette)
At a meeting of the merchants of Beloit held last night eighty prominent business men formed what is to be known as the Protective Association for Working Men. The principal object of the organization is to protect the workmen who wish to work, but are unable to do so owing to the existing labor difficulties. That the affair will be a success was settled by the presence of many of the most prominent merchants of the city.

Petitions Circulated
This morning a petition was circulated among all the citizens, setting forth the object of the association and asking for the support of every one. A branch to be known as the laboring man's branch has been started and is receiving many signatures. The petitions passed among the business men has over two hundred signatures at nine o'clock this morning and from the present outlook will be successfully carried out.

Critical Times
The labor situation in Beloit is very acute. Each week the different factories are laying off more and more men and at the Berlin works there is no prospect of a settlement. Last week the Fairbanks Morse company laid off one hundred and twenty-five workmen and tomorrow it is said that one hundred more are to be laid off. The Dowd Knife company talks of closing down for a period of time and other factories the same way.

Fight Boycott
The association formed last night is aimed to aid the workmen who desire to work. It is intended to act as a boycott against the boycott established some time ago against certain merchants. Its success will depend upon the hearty co-operation of the merchants and from present indications this will be secured without any trouble. The plans have been discussed for some time past in secret, but last night's meeting brought it to a head.

To Be Wedded: A marriage license was granted today to Henry L. Austin and Alvina L. Holmes, both of Evansville.

Seasonable Modes in Lingerie

THE fine lingerie underclothes of the season do not show any radical change from the modes which have for some time been in evidence, but this fact does not detract from their charm.

The lingerie outfit of underwear is composed of corset covers, chemises, drawers, little knee petticoats, long petticoats and nightgowns.

These garments are, as a rule, made of fine lawn or muslin, delicately ornamented, with lace applied in ruffling or in inset and applied designs, with Swiss embroidery, with all appropriate forms of handwork such as embroidery, hemstitching, French knots, etc., and with ribbon rosettes, bows and drawing ribbons.

The surprising beauty of the fine muslin embroideries this season has led the makers of lingerie to use embroidery trimmings more lavishly than ever before and the supremacy of lace as underwear trimming is not so pronounced as it was. In many cases, a compromise is effected, embroidery and lace being introduced upon the same garment. Especially is there a tendency to introduce embroidery beading in place of the lace beading upon lace-trimmed undergarments, and the notion is a sensible one, because ribbons are run through the embroidery beading much more easily than through the lace.

The tendency of modes in general toward severity of outline and elaboration within severe lines shows in the lingerie, which displays its ornamentation in tucks, inset trimmings and embroidery, etc., rather than in bouffant puffs and ruffles.

Corset covers are not darted or fitted close. They follow the simple model popular of late seasons, with closely drawn back and slightly bloused front.

Chemises have the simplest designs in so far as cut goes. They may or may not be finished with a ruffle at the bottom. Some of the most elaborate models come with a plain hem finish. Drawers still follow full lines and are, as a rule, edged with deep ruffles headed with lace or insertion or by a beading, through which a ribbon is run, which ties in a bow at the side. Skirts show a close fit over hips and a great fullness in deep ruffles about the feet.

Little skirts measuring in depth to the knee for wear under silk skirts or to take the place of the chemise skirt when a chemise is not worn almost invariably have a slightly flaring ruffle finish, as a plain model catches at the knee and a model with a very full ruffle, by its bunchiness, interferes with the graceful lines of the gown skirt.

Let us pass for a moment from the enticements of summer lingerie to the attractive linen gowns, of which we shall see many before the close of the season. There is a distinct fancy for mixing rough and smooth stuffs. For instance, some rough hopsack-linens are trimmed with pipings of plain silky linen in a contrasting shade. I saw a fawn hopsack trimmed with an almost white soft linen; the bodice was further adorned with red embroidery and guipure, and was surmounted by a red, coarse straw sailor hat.

Most effective was an orange linen—a real, bright flame shade—the skirt trimmed up to the knees with bands of black and white coarse embroidery, which also outlined the pelerine-bodice; under this was worn a blouse of lace, finished with an orange leather waistband.

The linen coat of short or three-quarter lengths lends itself to a variety of elaborations. Very smart motor and carriage coats are being made in linens, cut after the old guard's pattern, and simply strapped. Needless to say, to be successful, they must be extremely well cut. Then there are some chic linen coats made with basques, trimmed with pearl buttons, which lay claim to some consideration.

A great many mauve and purple linens are worn, some of them mixed with very good effect. Pale green and grass lawn shades, the coats lined with contrasting colors, also form charming costumes.

WHY DOES A LITTLE BOY?

Why does a little boy do things that never should be done?
Why does he keep on playing when to come in he is bid?
Why does he wade in water with the shoes his papa bought
And dilly in the chubbiness with old pneumonia fraught?
Why does he fill his pockets with two hundred kinds of trash?
Why does he shut the door upon his little finger-stomach?
Why does he turn his little nose up in the air, attack?
And when his mamma scasses him why does he sars her back?
Why does he rip his coat to see of what the coat is made?
Why does he dig the flowers up to exercise his spade?
Why does he break his little neck, ker-rip, ker-slap, ker-slam!
In reaching for the shelf whereon his mother keeps the jam?
Why does he, in the country, chase the unsuspecting cow
Until her milk all butter—may, why does he anyhow?
Why does he wade in all the mud for twenty miles about.
And when he should speak quietly why does he always shout?
Why is it when a bumblebee flies by he's sure to spy it?
Why does he catch the bee and sit on it to keep it quiet?
Alas, alas, I cannot say! But mamma's little boy
Most probably does all these things because he is a boy!
